

Rewrites of Sonic #11 and 12

Story 1: Sonic vs. Sonic (formerly "The Good, the Bad, and the Hedgehog") Fan fiction by Danny Wheeler

Sonic decided to explore the Warp Zones that dotted Mobius. But one of which was more than a Warp Zone. It transported Sonic to an alternate universe, where Eggman was the good guy, and Sonic and his friends were the bad guys. Sonic learned that when Eggman was healing a small squirrel, and the Evil Sonic was tormenting some young ducks. Instead of the Mobius of the Sky, it was called Mobius of the Tempest, and the Mobius of Darkness was instead called the Mobius of Serenity.

Sonic talked to the good Eggman and explained where he was from. After gaining him as an ally, Sonic did battle with his evil alter ego. After a brief race, Sonic defeated Evil Sonic and was able to get back to his home universe. Sonic then went to South Island and into Mobotropolis to explain to his friends where he was. They were amazed at what he told them. But Sally said, "At least your back safe and sound! Let's go on a picnic to relax, shall we?" Sonic couldn't have agreed with her more.

Story 2: Race Against The Clock (formerly "Beat the Clock") Fan fiction by Danny Wheeler

Sonic followed Metal Sonic to a desert region in the Mobius of Darkness. The reason was that Metal kidnapped Sally, Tails, Bunnie, and some other friends of Sonic and is holding them captive in a dilapidated temple. Eggman told the captives through Metal's communicator, "Sonic will never save you in time! I have sent three of my Super Badniks- Davy Sprocket, Skweel, and Dynamight- to guard the tunnels. At nightfall, the place will flood with a toxic gas. My robots will be unaffected, but you will perish. Well, at least you'll be able to see one last sunset. Ha, ha, ha..."

Fortunately, Sonic heard the communication through an intercom speaker in the temple, and this made him hurry. Davy Sprocket was the first to attack. It tried to take Sonic down with his "Homing Mine Shotgun". But Sonic made the mines hit Davy, and soon a hunter was freed from inside it. Sonic next challenged Skweel, who tried to run Sonic down with its "Road Hog Charge"! Sonic jumped up and sliced Skweel down the middle, releasing a boar. Sonic then challenged Dynamight, who used a "Seismic Exploder" to try to blast Sonic. Sonic smashed it before it could get close enough to harm the hedgehog. A bombardier beetle was released from it. Sonic made it to the place his friends were held, drove off Metal Sonic, saved his friends, and got out just seconds before the gas came in. Everyone returned to the Mobius of the Sky to celebrate!

Story 3: A Hedgehog Lost in Time
(Formerly "A Timely Arrival")
Fan fiction by Danny Wheeler

Eggman became more and more desperate to destroy Sonic and the Mobius of the Sky. Soon, he had an idea to send him back to the earliest ages of Mobius. He tampered with one of the Warp Zones and sent Metal Sonic to lure Sonic to it. Metal went to the Mobius of the Sky and injured Elias, brother of Princess Sally. Sonic got word of this and chased Sonic into the Mobius of Darkness and into the Warp Zone Eggman tampered with. Next thing he knew it, Sonic was in the prehistoric era of Mobius!

When Sonic met his ancestor and the ancestors of his friends, he told them that he was after an evil metal creature that looked similar to him. They agreed to help Sonic in any way he can. The prehistoric Sally and Tails tracked Metal Sonic to the swamp area. Primordial Rotor, Antoine, and Bunnie disoriented him with their primitive weapons, then Sonic and his ancestor teamed up and damaged Metal to the point of needing repairs. Sonic thanked his ancestor and his friends as he chased Metal Sonic back to his own time.

Story 4: Two More Friends For Sonic
(Combining and altering "The Bold-Headed Eagle" and "The Lynx is a Jinx")
Fan fiction by Danny Wheeler

Sally was talking with a newfound friend named Cyril, a bald eagle. He tells her that one of his friends, Larry Lynx (who had a bad luck streak for a while) was captured by Eggman. Soon, Metal Sonic attacked South Island and captured Cyril as well. Distressed, Sally, along with her brother Elias, flew to Sonic's retreat and asked for his help. "I'll see what I can do," replied Sonic as he and Tails flew to the Mobius of Darkness. When they found Metal Sonic and Eggman, they gasped as they saw Cyril and Larry turned into Super Badniks. Cyril was changed into the Lightning Eagle, and Larry was changed into the Frost Chimera.

Tails took on the Lightning Eagle. The Lighting Eagle was armed with "Thunder Feather Darts", sharp feathers charged with electricity that were shot from its wings. Tails dodged the darts and made a good attack that freed Cyril from the Badnik shell. Sonic fought the Frost Chimera, which was armed with a "Frostbite Laser", a freeze ray it shot from its mouth. Dodging the cold blasts, Sonic soon buzzed through the beast, freeing Larry. After freeing some other animals and people from their Badnik forms, Sonic, Tails, and the others returned to the Mobius of the Sky.
